

Team dynamics & communication

Looking for fun and learning-rich activity to liven up your long conference day? Our professional actor are ready to help you create exactly the activity that that is right for you and your team! We have plenty of ideas! Below are some ideas to inspire you.

H.C. Andersen's Fairy tales

Experience one of his fairy tales, dramatically told by our actor. Preferably away from the conference location.

The echo of Shakespeare's Hamlet at Kronborg Castle

Our actor perform a brief history of Skakespeare's story of Hamlet, at Kronborg Castle. After a short warm-up the teams are given the task to create their own mini-performance of Hamlet.

This is challenging and fun. We can of course film/photograph the groups' performances, which can be sent to you afterwards. We often combine this activity with "Kronborg by night" or our popular "Snaphane tour".

The theme and location can of course be suited to your needs.

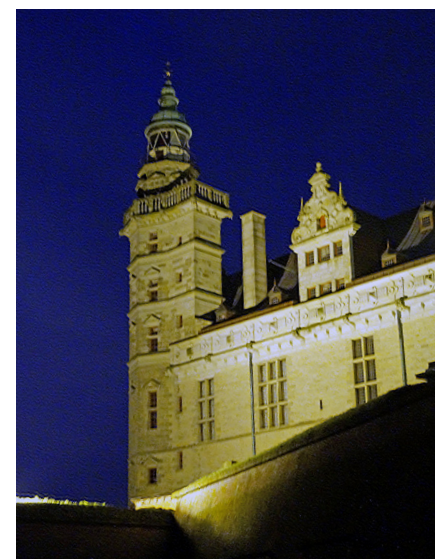

You and I as actors

A captivating experience with professional actors with an insight into their methods and techniques. The activity focuses on; stage presence, communication, body language and nuance. It gives a different take on communication with the aim of showing what it takes to present a captivating performance.

A great start to the day, or an energising break taken during the day.

Performing can be challenging, so our focus is on doing it through teamwork. There is no whiteboard or projector, but through the activity we aim to bring out another side of the groups' talents. This activity involves everyone in the team.
